VOL. XXXIII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1906.

NO. 99.

GENERAL PERCY HALEY,

Who makes Governors and U. S. Senators at his will. By far the greatest politician of his day and time. The man who does things.

MATRIMONIAL.

N. H. Bishop and Miss Josie Coffey were married this week.

Marriage license was issued to J. E. Martin and Miss Bessie McWhorter. They reside on Green river.

Rumor says that a well-known young man who formerly lived here, but now a resident of Danville Ill., will be married to a Lexington lady in the near future.

Countess Rou de Castellane, formerly Anna Gould, has entered a plea for divorce in Paris. Representatives of the Countess and the Count appeared before a Judge, who, according to the French law, endeavored to arrange a reconciliation before allowing a definite suit to proceed. It is said that the Judge's efforts were not successful and that the suit will proceed.

A Card.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar fails to cure your cough or cold. It stops the cough, heals the lungs and prevents serious results from a cold. Cures the grippe, cough and prevents pneumonia and consumption. Contains no opiates. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. Penny's Drug Store.

Defies Time.

One the most beautiful women in America defies the ravages of time by simply keeping her blood purified with Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Pepsin. It will do the same for you. If taken at the least sign of bowel, liver or stomach trouble, it will prevent all kinds of sickness, keep your circulation clear, and your skin and complexion as fresh and pure as in childhood. Sold by G. L. Penny, Stanford, and C. W. Adams, Hustonville, at 50c and $1. Money back if it fails.

CORNS CURED.—Corn Exit will positively remove corns in four days. The treatment is simple and pleasant and we absolutely guarantee to refund the money to each and every customer whose corns are not promptly removed with entire satisfaction. A bottle of this great preparation only costs 15 cents and nothing if a perfect cure is not speedily effected. G. L. Penny, druggist, Stanford, Ky.

Men Past Sixty in Danger.

More than half mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Care should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Barnett, Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Care I feel better than I have for twenty years although I am now 61 years old." Penny's Drug Store.

A majority report declaring Hon. Thomas Drewery entitled to his seat in the General Assembly from Louisville was adopted by the House after a minority report had been defeated.

NEWS NOTES.

Fire at Independence, Mo., destroyed property worth $75,000.

Because he was out of work, Jesse Taylor, of Owensboro, shot and killed himself.

Thomas A. Hendricks, who was shot while acting as peacemaker is at the point of death.

Eight persons, all Negroes, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed a frame house at Curtis Bay, near Baltimore.

Andrew Nodum, night watchman at the new Capitol site, Frankfort, was found dead near his tent. He was badly burned and frozen and his death is a mystery.

Rev. Dr. George H. Simmons, formerly of Louisville, was found dead at Peoria, Ill., having taken his own life to avoid the disgrace of exposure which confronted him.

Thomas Clark, charged with the murder of Zion Brown, and three other prisoners have escaped jail at Harlan. They used a false key and let themselves out at the jail door.

Secretary Mottel has approved the report of the Special Committee appointed to revise the regulations under which Chinese may enter and reside in the United States.

The President sent to Congress the report from the Interstate Commerce Commission relative to the connection of the Pennsylvania railroad system with other roads.

Midshipmen Richard Laurens De Sassure, of Charleston, S. C., and George H. Melvin, of Genesee, Ill., were formally dismissed from the Naval Academy, for hazing.

In a vigorous speech in the Lower House of Congress on the Railroad Rate Bill, Representative Bourke Cochran charged the railroads with favoritism, corruption and fraud.

Mrs. Kate Ross is dead at Baltimore, aged 71. Mrs. Ross was the daughter of Lewis Collins, who was the editor of the Maysville, Ky., Eagle, one of the pioneer newspapers of the State.

Captain James B. Clay, one of the most prominent Confederate veterans and thoroughbred breeders of Fayette county, was found dead in his sleeping car berth on a C. & O. train near Baltimore Wednesday morning.

In the Mann perjury trial in New York, a handwriting expert testified that the "O. K." and "W. D. M." on the Ward letters appeared to correspond with the admitted handwriting of the editor of Town Topics.

Two engines and a caboose collided with an extra freight train on the Norfolk and Western railroad at Rippon, Va., causing a serious wreck. One man was instantly killed, and Harry L. Wood, fireman, was badly injured.

James R. Rash, of Earlinton, Ky., has given to the trustees of South Kentucky College, at Hopkinsville, Ky., $10,000, to be used in erecting a building in memory of the donor's son, Ben L. Rash, Jr., who was a student at the college.

Members of the congregation of the Rev. George H. Simmons, who committed suicide at Peoria, Ill., with damaging charges against him, are divided as to the propriety of allowing his funeral to be held from his late church.

Commander-in-Chief Turner, of the G. A. R., who has accepted an invitation to go to Atlanta and address the reunion of Gen. Wheeler's Confederate Cavalry, is being delayed with protests from G. A. R. posts against his proposed action.

At the Packers' trial in Chicago, District Attorney Morrison made the direct assertion that C. M. McFarlane, office manager for Morris and Company, and the only witness examined during the day, was not telling the truth in his answers.

We are glad to know that the president looks with disfavor on the $25,000 gift proposed by the Cuban government for a bridal present for Miss Alice. He evidently believes with the rest of us that there are too many poor on the islands to waste money on those who will swim in wealth and the good things of earth.

Judge A. E. Richards, the city attorney of Louisville, gave an opinion in which he holds that the recent decision of the court of appeals in the Marion National Bank case does not apply in the city of Louisville, and will have no effect on the collection of taxes. The decision would have cut the city out of $125,000 a year had it been applicable.

Counterfeiting lamb chops is an industry of the Yankees just discovered. Any kind of old meat is attached to lamb bones in some way and sold for the real article. The government bureau of chemistry discovered the fraud. The Chicago Daily News man, after taking a look at the Illinois Legislature, said: "It is easy to understand why so many of our laws are unconstitutional." It is different in Kentucky. Our Legislature is so full of constitutional lawyers that no unconstitutional law could pass muster before it, that is to say, not many of them.

FIRST BRICK HOUSE BUILT IN KENTUCKY.

In Lincoln county, about three miles from the famous Crab Orchard Springs, is an interesting old brick house, said to be the first built in the State, says the Larue County Herald. It was erected over 115 years ago by Col. William Whitley, the intrepid Indian fighter of Revolutionary days. On a high hill commanding a splendid view of the surrounding country, with the foot hills of the Cumberland mountains in the distance, sits this two and one-half-story structure built of plain and glazed brick. In each end of the house the bricks are placed in diamond shape, giving a peculiar effect. Both the interior and exterior are lavishly supplied with fancy wood work, all of which were carved with a pen-knife.

The partition walls are of wood elaborately carved, and the stairway has cut on it 13 eagle heads to represent the original colonies and States, and on the mantel in one of the rooms are 13 S's to signify the same.

The doors, made of two layers of wood with sheet iron between, hang upon the old-time leather strap hinges. This monument to early-day architecture was often the abiding place of Boone, Kenton, Clark and early pioneers, who were the honored friends of their host.

Though remarkably preserved, time has left its mark on this old structure and, ere it is too late, this home of a brave and fearless pioneer, built in the wilderness during the days of stirring scenes, should be purchased by our State and restored to its former condition. The valorous deeds and ancient homes of those who served our grand old State should not become a memory, a dream, and live only in tradition and story, but should be so revered and preserved that each generation will be inspired to emulate the sturdy patriotism of their early heroes.

Col. Whitley was not only a soldier of daring and renown, but a true sportsman, having at all times fine horses, fast hounds and game chickens.

In front of this house is an old race track, three-fourths of a mile in length, believed to be the first made in Kentucky. It is at the base and surrounding a tall knob, known as Sportsman's Hill, and by mounting this eminence the spectators could see the horses throughout the entire race. Once the Colonel's opponents so "doctored" his entry that, like Mark Twain's famous bull frog, it was unable to move. This so enraged the old gentleman that he renounced racing for good and all, saying: "It must be done on the square or none of it for me."

Colins' History in its description of the battle of the Thames, which occurred in 1814, gives Col. Whitley as the slayer of the great Indian chief Tecumseh. This fact is corroborated by all the evidence obtainable, though the impression that Col. Richard M. Johnson killed him has long prevailed. Whitley invariably loaded his musket with two balls and it was found that death came to Tecumseh through two balls entering identically the same spot. The Indians were ambushed near the Thames and Gen. Harrison selected 30 of his best men. There was only one survivor of this battle—the Col. Johnson who is said to have killed the chief. Col. Whitley fell on this field covered with wounds and glory, an honor to himself and country.

There are now in the possession of his great-granddaughter, Mrs. Buchanan, not only the house of her noted ancestor, but many valuable relics of those bygone days. Among them is the musket still retaining the flint which created the fire to ignite the powder and send the two balls on their mission of death and destruction, and the old powder horn, on which is inscribed by the Colonel's own hand the following:

William Whitley, I am your horse;
The truth I love, a lie I scorn.
Fill me with the best of powder,
I'll make your rifle crack the louder.
See how the dread, terrific ball
Makes Indians bleed and Tories fall;
You with powder I'll supply,
For to defend your liberty.

Lame Back.

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles and may be cured by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm two or three times a day and rubbing the parts vigorously at each application. If this does not afford relief, bind on a piece of flannel slightly dampened with Pain Balm, and quick relief is almost sure to follow. For sale by Dr. W. N. Craig, the popular druggist, at Stanford, Ky.

Samuel O. Foster, an inmate of the Confederate Home at Pewee Valley, recently read his obituary and a description of his funeral, as printed in a Paducah paper. He denies that he is dead.

E. C. WALTON.

THE sudden death of Capt. James B. Clay brings a reminder, which is constantly recurring, that the Confederate soldier is slowly and steadily passing away. This is particularly noticeable in Kentucky for two reasons. Originally there were only about 40,000 Kentuckians who enlisted in the Confederate armies. This is a small number as compared with the enlistments from other States. When one dies the loss of him is noticed. The greater reason, however, lies in the fact that the young men of the State who offered their services to the Confederacy were the CREME DE LA CREME of Kentucky society. Characteristically they were the flower of Kentucky knighthood. Those who survived the conflict and returned home, at once took and maintained a high place in local and public confidence. They developed a capacity for affairs. They became leaders in industrial pursuits, in law, in theology and in politics. From their ranks have come the best educators, the best judges, the most progressive and enlightened statesmen the Commonwealth has ever known. They have left their impress upon the whole State. The breath of scandal has rarely, if at all, touched the honor of one who has filled a public station. In peace, as in war, they have proven themselves to be heroes in the strife. Men who risk their lives and their fortunes for principles are never grafters. They neither sell nor barter their birth-rights for pottage, for office or for any vile consideration. Age is now touching the youngest of these soldiers. The State may have to-day, or it may have in the future, their equals. But it will never have, nor will any country ever boast, a prouder, braver, better class of young men than those who followed the flags of Breckinridge and Morgan and Williams and Hanson.

THE most intricate problem the Legislature is now contending with is the new Revenue Bill. The question of taxation is constantly recurring. The many shifts and devices to escape the just burdens which the law lays upon property are testimonials to the ingenuity rather than the honesty of many people. Every one is ready to admit that life would be insecure and property not worth the holding if the government were powerless to protect them. Yet how many so-called reputable people are there; how many corporations are there that dodge, evade, suppress the truth and utter positive untruths on oath to escape the full measure of liability for taxes. The government—State, county or municipal—can no more live without taxes than a man can live without food and water. Yet it can not be called an extravagant statement that there is more rascality practiced in evading taxes than in the evasion of all other social or contractual obligations combined. A man who pleads limitation to escape the payment of a just debt loses credit in the community. A man who pleads usury to escape the payment of the interest he has agreed to pay is looked upon with suspicion. But the fellow who cheats the government is like the political thief who steals the ballot box—a d—n smart fellow.

If the Assembly approves a measure by Dr. Paynter, of Anderson county, it will be harder to acquire the "dope" habit in Kentucky and more difficult to secure the drug for a person already so addicted. The bill is House Bill No. 272, and its provisions, in brief, are that a person addicted to the use of morphine, cocaine or chloral must secure a certificate from the State Board of Pharmacy, upon recommendation of a practicing physician, before they can be furnished it in limited quantities by druggists, and must present the certificate to the druggist before he can supply the drug. Otherwise, any of the drugs mentioned above cannot be sold by a druggist except upon written prescription of a physician, and the prescription cannot be refilled nor a copy of it furnished to the person purchasing. This is a good bill and if it is passed, as it should be, every section of the country that is infested with the "dope" fiend will sing the praises of Dr. Paynter forever more.

THE South Carolina House of Representatives has voted by a large majority to abolish the State dispensary and it is said that the Senate will do so. Of all the schemes devised to curtail the whisky evil, the dispensary has proved the worst and it ought to have been abolished years ago.

THE richest man in the world is said to be Alfred Beit, the South African mining king. He is said to be worth a cool billion. His yearly income is $52,500,000, which means that he gets $100 every minute of his life, or to put it another way, $1,000,000 a week.

CHARLES C. MOORE, the famous infidel editor of the Bluegrass Blade, died at his home in Fayette county Wednesday afternoon, after a lingering illness. He was 67 years old and for many years had started all Kentucky with his heathen editorials.

HIGHLAND.

Winter has taken a new start. Several of our citizens who were reported ill in our last, are greatly improved. Jarret Berry who has been very low for some days, is slightly better.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company are putting up to more wires on their line through this county and have been at work in our midst this week.

John Young is going to school at Kingsville. Rev. Geo. Thompson, of Eubank, gave us a call while en route to Barbourville to put two of his daughters in school there. Eastridge & Jones, of Jackson county, were here last week looking for homes. Mr. and Mrs. Manfred Chevolett, of Ludlow, were here this week, the guests of Mrs. Lucy Faulkner. Al. Everett and Mart Horton, of New Albany, spent several days with H. F. Horton and J. W. Cook.

A letter received by Uncle Isaac Baugh from Kansas tells of the death of his grand-daughter, Miss Mollie Young, of consumption. This makes the third one of Mr. G. W. Young's daughters to die of that disease in the past two years. Mrs. Beck, wife of one of our citizens, died last Monday and was buried Thursday at Ottenheim.

Charles Cook has moved to the E. F. Young property, and Rich Young to the Henry Baugh house on the corner. Cook Bros. sold their mill to Vernon Smith, of near Kingsville. A large crowd gathered at the home of Fred J. Conn to help him eat his birthday dinner last Thursday.

Here and There.

Representative Edwards has introduced a bill in the House at Washington appropriating $500,000 to complete the improvement of the Kentucky river.

Senator Charlton's bill providing for about 76 additional policemen for Louisville has been favorably reported on by the Committee on Municipalities.

No wonder the fish crop is never "short." The flounder lays 7,000,000 eggs annually; several others from 1,000,000 to 3,000,000, while the turbot is credited with depositing from 11,000,000 to 12,000,000 during the breeding season.

POLITICAL.

Senator Hickman, during his occupancy of the gubernatorial chair, did not grant a single pardon though numerous applications were made.

Unexpected opposition to the Kentucky Bar Association bill relating to the using of bystanders on juries has developed at Frankfort, the contention being set up that the Bar Association is controlled by a lot of politicians, who hope in some mysterious way to gain the proposed measure.

Senators and Representatives and citizens of Frankfort, paid respectful and loving homage to the memory of Kentucky's martyred governor, William Goebel. The tributes to his memory in the House were large with the fullness of the occasion, while the exercises at the grave were simple and earnest.

Senator Bailey plied the party lash over the shoulders of Senator Patterson in the national Senate while Mr. Patterson defended at length his attitude toward party caucuses. Mr. Bailey scored a strong point by proving that on a previous occasion the Colorado Senator had voted in a Democratic caucus for the adoption of the two-thirds rule. The debate attracted much attention, and was accompanied by several dramatic incidents.

Marriner W. Merrill, an apostle of the Mormon Church, died at Richmond, Utah. He had been married nine times and at the time of his death had seven living wives.

A Woman's Martyrdom

Is too often her own fault, simply because she won't take sufficient trouble to try a medicine that so many thousands of women enthusiastically recommend, viz: Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. This bland, soothing, curative medicine, regulates disordered functions of stomach, liver, bowels, etc., and soon restores sick women to perfect health. Try it. Sold by G. L. Penny, Stanford, and C. W. Adams, Hustonville, at 50c and $1. Money back if it fails.

Louisville bankers and real estate men have entered protest against the proposed tax on blended whisky, claiming that it will drive jobbing houses out of the city.

FOR SALE.—A nice large store room and dwelling above, consisting of several nicely furnished rooms. A good barn and lot and all necessary outbuildings. The property is in good repair, situated on Main street in Stanford, Ky., right in the business portion of town. The property will be sold at a bargain and is a splendid opportunity for some one desiring to go in business, for the store and dwelling combined will be a great saving in rent, etc. Possession given immediately. For particulars, etc., see or write L. R. Hughes, Stanford.

MR. W. D. WALLIN.

Who qualified as magistrate for the East End Wednesday. He filled the office so well during the last four years that the people demanded his services until a successor to Mr. D. J. Smith, who moved out of the district, could be elected.

Twice-Told Tales.

Some tales never lose in the telling, and the tale of good that Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin will, and does do, to all poor, dyspeptic, bilious sufferers, is one of them. It positively relieves and cures all forms of indigestion, starts up the languid liver, regulates the constipated bowels, and restores the entire system to a perfect condition of health. Try it. Sold by G. L. Penny, Stanford, and C. W. Adams, Hustonville, at 50c and $1. Money back if it fails.

OFFICE OF GARLAND SINGLETON, Supt. Schools of Lincoln Co. January 15, 1906. White's Concentrated Water Co., Crab Orchard, Ky.

Gentlemen:—I have been a sufferer from acute indigestion and constipation for years. After having tried various remedies and receiving no relief, I decided to try your Crab Orchard Concentrated Water. After using same for two months, I can truthfully say that I feel better than I have for years. I want to say that it is the greatest remedy out for indigestion, constipation and other like diseases. I cheerfully recommend this water to all sufferers.

Respectfully,
GARLAND SINGLETON.

Hughes, Stanford, Ky.

A SPECIAL term of the Fiscal Court was in session on yesterday, called by Judge Warren to consider matters of pressing importance touching the roads in the county. Judge Warren has given patient study to the road question, which is constantly bobbing up to vex the courts and the tax-payers. His review of the legislation and the decisions of the appellate court, as presented by him to the justices, doubtless furnished them with information which will be helpful in the future management of turnpikes and dirt roads.

GOOD FOR OUR REP.—Hon. Jesse M. Alverson, of Lincoln county, who is one of the most industrious members of the House, is very much elated over the passage by that body of his bill to pay common school teachers for the week they are required to attend the county institute, says the Frankfort Journal. At present they lose the week and have to pay their board in the town the institute is held. Mr. Alverson usually gets what he goes after and this little help for a hard-worked class makes him more solid than ever with that portion of his constituency. The bill passed the House by a practically unanimous vote, which presages an easy road in the Senate.

BEAZLEY.—After an illness of typhoid fever covering a period of five weeks, Mrs. Clara Mershon Beazley, wife of James R. Beazley, breathed her last yesterday afternoon about 3:30. Mrs. Beazley was Miss Clara Mershon, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mershon, of Somerset, and was 28 years of age. About six years ago she was married to Mr. Beazley and he with one little girl are left to mourn the loss of a tender wife and mother. Mrs. Beazley was a member of the Christian church and was a conscientious, good woman. Besides the husband and daughter, her parents and two sisters, Mrs. Arthur C. Hill of this place, and Mrs. C. M. Pennybacker, of Somerset, survive her. In the prime of life and surrounded as she was by loving friends, a fond husband and beautiful child, Mrs. Beazley was indeed happy and it seems hard that she had to be taken from her loved ones. But he who knows best has called and she has gone to her reward. At 10:30 to-morrow morning Rev. L. M. Omer will conduct the funeral services at the Christian church, after which the remains will be laid to rest in Buffalo cemetery.

AFTER a cold snap of several days the weather has moderated a little. For several nights this week the thermometer hovered the zero mark and ice nearly four inches thick was formed.

THE faculty of the Stanford Graded School will go this, Friday afternoon, to Danville to attend the tri-principals' meeting, the third in the series. Talks will be made by Profs. Mannix, of Lancaster, and Ireland, of Stanford.

THE Fiscal Court met in called session yesterday, all the members being present. W. D. Wallin has recently been appointed by the governor to fill the vacancy in the Crab Orchard district caused by the failure of D. J. Smith to qualify as magistrate, to which position he was elected last November. The principal business before the court was to determine the amount of metal to be placed on the various turnpikes during the year, and after fixing the amounts the supervisor of roads was directed to advertise for bids for the work, the same to be let to the lowest and best bidders on the 15th day of next March. Appropriations were made to certain contractors for turnpike work. Court adjourned until Feb. 15th at which time it will pass on the question of approving or rejecting the bid of J. I. White for a franchise to build railroads over the turnpikes.

JUDGE R. C. WARREN has received the following letter from Mr. J. C. Lay, of Middleburg, which is self-explanatory:

Hon. R. C. Warren, Stanford Ky. MY DEAR SIR: Those of us whom you notified in regard to the turnpike hardly know what to do for the best. We think it nothing but right that we should help repair the road. Mr. Coulter and I have decided to put some teams on the road and fix the worst places, yet gravel is pretty unhandy for us. I believe that every teamster will be perfectly willing to work on the road or pay a reasonable amount. I have not had any lumber hauled over the road since April. I am representing the Southern Lumber Co., with Mr. Bolender; we are perfectly willing to do whatever is reasonable and right and would be glad to hear from you. Very truly J. C. Lay.

Common Colds are the Cause of Many Serious Diseases.

Physicians who have gained a national reputation as analysts of the cause of various diseases, claim that if catching cold could be avoided a long list of dangerous ailments would never be heard of. Every one knows that pneumonia and consumption originate from a cold, and chronic catarrh, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles are aggravated and rendered more serious by each fresh attack. Do not risk your life or take chances when you have a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure it before these diseases develop. This remedy contains no opium, morphine or other harmful drug and has thirty years of reputation back of it, gained by its cures under every condition. For sale by Dr. W. N. Craig, the popular druggist at Stanford, Ky.

President Roosevelt has written a letter to Secretary Taft, expressing his appreciation of the finding in the case of Lieut. Roy I. Taylor, who was reduced for unbecoming conduct to ward an enlisted man of his command.

Now and Then.

Some thorough and careful physician invents, in his practice, some special medicine, that proves so universally successful whenever prescribed, that he proceeds to place it before the public to be reached by the newspapers. This is the history of Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. For years, prescribed by Dr. W. B. Caldwell for constipation, and all disorders of liver, stomach and bowels, it was at last manufactured on a large scale, and is now the most successful medicine in the world for these diseases. A pure, scientific tonic, laxative, syrup; pleasant to take and perfect in results. Try it. Sold by G. L. Penny, Stanford, and C. W. Adams, Hustonville, at 50c and $1. Money back if it fails.

By the timely action of Mr. Prewitt, Commissioner of Insurance for the State of Kentucky, the convention which met in Chicago to discuss methods and means of giving to policyholders the greatest amount of protection, was saved from domination by some 300 acturaries sent by the various insurance companies to prevent the adoption of adverse measures.

To Poultry Raisers!

I will have for sale on the streets of Stanford on county court day, Feb. 12, 1906, a nice lot of Black Langshank cockerels and pullets from prize winning stock. Will also look orders for eggs from my pens of Black Langshanks, Silver Leg Waukies and Barred Plymouth Rocks at $1 per setting of 15. Those who are interested in the poultry business are cordially invited to come and look at my different pens of fine stock. No better in the State. Eggs delivered free of charge to Stanford, Lancaster or Crab Orchard. Mail orders solicited and given prompt attention. Mrs. W. P. White, Fair View Poultry Farm, Preachersville, Ky.

The Best Physic.
